Rappelling in San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua

Aracne Repelling - Casa de Cooper

Local Call 8887-6255 - "Baldo"

What is Rappelling

Repel is a specialized mountaineering technique that allows you to do a controlled descent down a rope on a vertical faces like a cliff or wall through a device that provides friction.

Also known as Abseiling. Rappelling is the most used vertical descending technique and it is used worldwide for rescuer by firefighters, special forces and police, also in construction in high buildings and for mountaineering.

How you do it?

The climbing rope is anchored to a cliff with artificial anchors like cams, pitons and bolts or natural anchors like trees and boulders. the climber then uses a rappel device which utilizes the friction of the rope through the device to control his descent as he literally slides down the fixed rope to a ledge or the cliff base.
